

Pocket-sized: The comprehensive USB Language Course for English, French and Spanish by digital publishing

USB language course by dp with Virtual Classroom

Release: Immediately

The worlds smallest language school

Munich. The whole range of language training is pocket-sized: with the USB Language Course, digital publishing combines effective language training with modern interactive technology. The 2 GB USB-stick contains Europe's most successful language learning system, for beginners to advanced learners. It also provides a business language training for all linguistic challenges in professional life. All users of the USB Language Course can book live training on the Internet and communicate with a real language trainer and other learners – via webcam, microphone and chat in the "Virtual Classroom."

A mobile language school: Whether on a journey, at home or in the office – the USB-stick can be used on any PC without complicated installation: "unpack, plug and learn!" All results achieved during the course are saved on the USB-stick without leaving any trace on a PC or notebook. The stick enables the learner to study individually and flexible. Thanks to the Intellispeech pronunciation training by dp, even pronunciation is improved word by word. Furthermore, all users of the USB Language Course are given the possibility to book classes in the Virtual Classroom. Here, they can talk about interesting topics with a live language trainer and other learners. All texts, including vocabulary lists within the language learning software, can be printed. And with just one mouse click all dialogs and audio-exercises can be transformed into a separate file and copied onto a cell phone or MP3-player.
